5. Case study :

Mr. Ratnadip is a very sincere worker in Puja Infotc Solutions in Orissa. He is working since 10 years in the organisation. He usually comes to office by 9 a.m. and reaches home at 5 p.m. He gets married to Ms. Smita who is a bank employee and a very ambitious lady. She is not very happy about Ratnadip's career. She advise him to become a little smarter. She compares him with Mr. Rahul who has become very wealthy in a matter of 2-3 years in the same organisation. Mr. Ratnadip explains to his wife that Mr. Rahul is a person without ethics. He is used to taking bribes from clients to get their work done.

However, Smita is not convinced. She wants to have a high standard of life as soon as possible. This resulted in constant conflict between Ratnadip and his wife.

- (a) Discuss the characteristics of Smita and Ratnadip according to the Guna theory.
 (b) Advise Ratnadip as to how he should deal with the situation.
